

THE ESSENTIALS

SparkClaw Brand Guidelines

How to keep SparkClaw looking and sounding like itself — logo, color, type, mascot and voice in one quick reference.

BOLD · PLAYFUL · ENCOURAGING

A spark for every founder.

SparkClaw is the friendly face of our accelerator — the energy in the room when an idea clicks. The brand should feel like a great mentor: bold enough to push founders, playful enough to keep it human, and encouraging every step of the way.

Energetic

Voice

We sound like

A sharp mentor cheering you on. Direct, warm, specific. Short sentences. Real verbs. We celebrate progress and name the next step.

Not like

Corporate jargon, hype without substance, or a lecture. We never talk down to founders or bury the point.

In one line

"You've got the spark — let's turn it into traction."

One mark, two backgrounds.

The primary lockup pairs the SparkClaw mascot with the wordmark. Use the dark wordmark on light backgrounds and the reversed (white) wordmark on dark or photographic backgrounds.

PRIMARY · ON LIGHT

REVERSED · ON DARK

Clear space

Keep a margin around the logo at least as tall as the mascot's visor. Nothing — text, edges, or other logos — enters this zone.

Minimum size

To stay legible, never show the full lockup below 1 in / 96 px wide. Below that, use the mascot on its own.

Keep the mark intact.

Consistency builds recognition. Use the supplied logo files as-is — don't recreate, restyle, or rearrange them.

✓ Do

- Use the original logo files provided.
- Give the logo room to breathe.
- Pick the version that contrasts with the background.
- Scale proportionally — hold the aspect ratio.

✗ Don't

- Recolor the mascot or wordmark.
- Stretch, squash, or rotate the mark.
- Add shadows, outlines, or effects.
- Place it on a busy or low-contrast background.
- Rearrange the mascot vs. the wordmark.

Rule of thumb

If you're unsure whether an edit is allowed — it probably isn't. Reach for an original file instead.

Red leads. Confetti supports.

SparkClaw Red and Ink carry the brand. The confetti accents come from the mascot's burst — use them sparingly for energy, highlights, and data, never as a primary background.

Core

Confetti accents

Balance

Aim for roughly 70% paper, 20% red & ink, 10% confetti accents. Keep body text in Ink on Paper for readability.

Clear, rounded, friendly.

Pair a rounded geometric sans for headlines with a clean, legible sans for body.

Poppins (headlines) and Inter (body) match the wordmark's friendly feel — substitute system sans (Arial / Helvetica) when those aren't available.

Spark the idea.

Headline — Poppins SemiBold / Bold

Use for

Titles, section heads, big statements

Tracking

Tight, generous line height

Body copy stays simple and roomy so founders can scan it fast. Keep lines short, lead with the point, and let white space do the work.

Body — Inter / system sans, 10–11pt

Mascot

✓ Do

- Let the mascot lead on welcoming, celebratory moments.
- Keep the full confetti burst when space allows.
- Use on its own as an avatar or app icon.

✗ Don't

- Redraw, recolor, or re-pose the character.
- Crop awkwardly through the body or claws.
